Think Imprinters are Dinosaurs? This Dinosaur is Cutting Edge

NBS-BARTIZAN employs the latest, most powerful technologies so, whatever your priorities, we'll exceed your expectations. Expect the most options, the best service and the greatest values from the people you know and trust.

We pledge to continually strive to enhance our products and services by listening to your priorities and exceeding your expectations. To do that, we must implement the most effective technology tools available. We believe that combining our commitment to "old fashioned service" with the most effective new technologies will make us the only clear choice.

We feel certain that technology will allow us to strengthen relationships with existing and new customers through increased communication, superior quality control and dynamic and time-saving web-site functions. As more and more of your business, and your customers' business, can benefit from the web, we will add the features that will help you most.

Right now, technology allows us to offer the broadest range of customization of merchandise, real-time inventory information, and specialized order-taking features designed to save you money. In the very near future we will have online ordering and payment options and interactive customer service including online order status confirmation, online warehouse and shipping status reports and real-time sales reporting and analysis.

NBS-BARTIZAN will be The Last Dinosaur because of our commitment to evolve. We understand that our function in your business can be mission-critical to every merchant at one time or another. We take that very seriously.
